Grand Entry kicks off July 1 stage show

A powwow-style Grand Entry by Frog Lake First Nations dancers and drum group started off Elk Point's Canada Day stage show with their colourful pageantry, with their Teen Senior Princess and Men's Traditional dancers leading the way for a lineup that also included jingle dancers and fancy dancers, who delighted the large crowd with the same dances these award-winning performers compete in at powwows across North America.

No rain on Canada Day parade, but...

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The first six hours of Elk Point's Canada Day celebrations went off without a hitch last Tuesday, but a 20-minute downpour sent virtually everyone scurrying for shelter under tents, into the arena, in nearby vehicles or crowding under umbrellas. As soon as the final drops subsided, however, the fun resumed and hot sun dried out the impromptu wet-tee-shirt event as the show got back underway, continuing right through the fireworks finale with no further weather delays.

Elk Point Friends of the Library hosted this year's pancake breakfast, with a large contingent of volunteers serving up an estimated 846 breakfasts on the library lawn, as members of the Canada Day committee sold tee-shirts and handed out flags and programs.

Elk Point RCMP hosted their second annual open house during the breakfast, with a number of visitors stopping by to check out the detachment and to chat with the Rural Crime Watch representatives who had set up an information table there.

Toward the end of the breakfast, talented young vocalist and 2013 Canada Day Idol, Olivia Rose took to a temporary stage just down the street to perform some of her favourite numbers, while realtors Shirley and Glenn Harms served up free ice cream to those eagerly awaiting the parade.

The parade started off with a cavalcade of 20 youngsters following Daniel Peterson with beautifully decorated bicycles, followed by the RCMP, the Vermilion pipe band and parade marshal Deanna Easthope, who served as the Canada Day committee chair for many years, and a lineup of almost 40 entries.

Our sincere apologies to Mayor Parrish Tung and Elk Point town council, who have pointed out that they wish the $15,000 price stated for the treated water storage project was indeed the cost, rather than the massive $1,500,000 they are facing. So sorry for the error.

Darryl Fraess and his Cross Country Band were joined by Fraess' daughter, Shyla, for the first time ever at their Canada Day stage show performance last Tuesday.

Canada Day

The Ukrainian Orthodox Church offered a pyrohy dinner at the Seniors' Recreation Centre immediately after the parade, with the Elk Point Co-op firing up their barbecue along Main Street soon after, and an ice cream truck, a 'bannock shack' and booths operated by the Filipino community and the Travel Club all serving up lunch in and near the A. G. Ross Arena, the hardworking Travel Club remaining on site to serve a spaghetti supper.

The flag was raised as O Canada rang out in English and French to start the afternoon stage show, emceed by Debra McQuinn, who was thrilled to introduce Theresa Wade and some very special entertainers, the award-winning Young Spirit drum group and a large group of beautifully costumed dancers from Frog Lake First Nations. All the dancers took part in a ceremonial grand entry and a traditional flag song, before dividing into groups, each introduced by Rocky Wade. Jingle Dancers and girls' Fancy Dancers were followed by a slow and stately traditional dance by Frog Lake's Teen Senior Princess, a champion on the powwow trail. The men's Fancy Dance picked up the pace, and was followed by the Grass Dance and a men's Traditional dance that included the sneak-up and duck and dive, by Richard Cross, Zane Wade and a junior boys' champion dancer. All joined in an Intertribal dance before the dancers invited the crowd to join in a round dance, symbolic of friendship.

Vocalist Robin Erickson, accompanied by Austin Stafford, and Ukrainian Dancers Ty Smereka and Jaden Plaska were next to entertain, with Darryl Fraess and his Cross Country Band playing their first set of classic country favourites before the downpour sent the audience scrambling and brought proceedings to a halt for a short time.

Before long, however, the clouds moved off and Olivia Rose chose the perfect song, "You Are My Sunshine" as the first number of her set as the sun broke through again. A group of lovely Filipino ladies were next in the spotlight, with massive flower wreaths accenting their graceful moves in a traditional dance, which was followed by a quick and lively dance by two teens from their community.

Brianne Greening delighted the crowd with three contemporary numbers before Fraess and his band returned to the stage, this set featuring his daughter Shyla, 18, who was performing with him for the first time and who joined with him in a special song he had written for her, "I'm In Love With My Daddy." The band wound up the afternoon show with several more country and gospel favourites.

Action then moved a short distance south to the F. G. Miller sports field, for the First Annual Elk Point Survival Challenge, created by Tessa and Jason Pankiw, Teresa Boratynec and Yolanda Kinjerski. The course started with a slip and slide down an impromptu water slide before participants crawled through wet sand, climbed up and over a vertical tire course, ran through a football-training-style set of tires, along baseball dugout benches, climbed through more tires and over a wooden structure, hopped through more on-the-ground tires and into a pool, from which they tossed beach balls through a tractor tire, with varying degrees of success.

The new event proved enormously popular, with a total of 27 teams taking part. Brant Evans and Kaiden Evans-Anderson recording the fastest time of 1:26, Ryan McDonald and Charlie Rogal and Tyler Jamieson and Colby McQuinn tied for second with 1:35, Murray Cochrane and Sam Rogal fourth at 1:47 and Dylan Loughran and Paige Henderson placing fifth at 1:57.

Evening brought more musical entertainment, with the Canada Day Idol competition (see Page 3) at the Elk Point Arts and Leisure Centre and a jamboree at the Seniors' Recreation Centre, and of course a brilliant fireworks display that lit up the darkening sky.

Hollie Warkentin of St. Paul, a former Elk Point area resident and F. G. Miller High School graduate, won the title of Elk Point Canada Day Idol 2014 with her rendition of 'Make You Feel My Love.'

Second and third place in the competition went to the top two junior competitors. Jorja Theriault of Elk Point placed first in the juniors and second overall with 'Addicted to You', while Sara Mercier of Bonnyville placed second in the juniors and third overall with 'Faith and Sound.'

Warkentin accepted the Canada Day Idol trophy from competition organizer Dee Pankiw, along with half of the competition's entry fees, five hours of recording time at Phunkin Gruuve Records in Lloydminster, 20 copies of the resulting CD from Black Box Studios, Edmonton, and CD liners, letterheads, business cards and presentation folder from Wee Write Consulting, Elk Point.

Two prizes of two hours of recording time went to Theriault, along with 30 per cent of the entry fees, while Mercier received the remaining 20 per cent of entry fees and a $50 gift certificate from Kelly's Closet.

This year there was also a special award for the best performance in the junior category. The winners of the Canada Day Idol Shooting Star Award, sponsored by B & R Eckels, were sisters Heaven and Patience Colbourne, who wowed the crowd and the judges with their parody of 'Last Friday Night.' The sisters also performed individual numbers.

This year's contestants came from as far away as Westbank, BC and Maidstone, SK to take part in the two-hour show, with one of the best crowds in the history of the event filling the Elk Point Arts and Leisure Centre to cheer them all on.

Other performers in the senior category, for those age 15 and over, included Busi Dzingirayi, the Blind Orion band, Tamara Hayward, James Inman and Brianne Greening, all of Elk Point, Sharlie Soquist of Kitscoty, Joy Lambright of Westbank, BC, Shelby Loyal of Saddle Lake and Myron Cotton of Cold Lake. Junior entrants also included Brandy Berland of Frog Lake, Hailey Bykowski of Derwent, Sara Wright of Maidstone, SK and local trio, Nicole, Emma and Jessie.

Last year's Canada Day Idol Olivia Rose was a special guest at this year's event, singing a cover version of 'Little Red Boots' as well as her original song, 'Makeup to Mud' which will be released on CD this summer. Ontario visitors Jesse Hawkins and Kyle Bieman also dropped in at the show and added a couple of country favourites, 'Much Too Young' and 'Guitar Town', to the program during the judging intermission.

Blind Orion rocks on.

- Some children experience motion sickness while traveling in cars. There are ways to minimize this by having the child focus on things outside the car, using a pillow to keep the head still, providing adequate air ventilation. Depending on the child's age, some medications may help. Some people swear by those acupressure wrist bands. They are non-medicated. Check with our pharmacists for advice.
- If a nose bleed occurs while traveling (or at anytime), tilt the head forward and pinch the soft part of the nostrils for 5 minutes. If the nosebleed still hasn't stopped, do it for another 5 minutes and if it still hasn't stopped, get medical attention.
- One tip to see if your body has been getting enough fluid is to check the colour of your urine. If it's a dark yellow, you probably need to drink more water. During the hot days of summer, it's important to drink more water since we lose a lot of fluid through sweating.
- People who have adopted a slovenly lifestyle for decades often feel it's too late to change their health for the better. Not so! Just paying attention to four key healthy habits can change your health for the better no matter what your age. These habits are: eating five or more fruits and vegetables daily, not smoking, exercising (even walking) 30 minutes per day five days per week, and keeping your weight in the healthy range. When you think of it, it's not much. But your heart will thank you!
- Take charge of your own health and let our pharmacists be on your health team.

We did it again!

Well, Elk Point, we did it again! We celebrated our nation's birthday with one of the biggest parties in northeast Alberta, and we didn't even let a major downpour send us running for the hills! We just dried out and carried on!

Canada Day is a day to show our national pride, and judging from the number of Canadian flags - on floats, on bicycles and businesses, on T-shirts, fluttering from vehicle windows - it definitely looks like we're proud to be part of this great nation of ours.

The day was much more than a birthday party, it was a huge affirmation of volunteerism in action, with a long, long list of groups working together to get the show on the road and cheer it to its conclusion.

Way Back When....

Conservatives, cleanup costs, Canada Day

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES IN THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JULY 8 IN....

1984

Progressive Conservative leader Brian Mulroney got down to the grassroots in Vermilion when he met with 2,000 supporters, immediately pulling on a pair of cowboy boots he was presented with and standing tall on his new western foundation as he called out, "Bring on those Grits!"

1989

The archaeological team probing deep into the fur traders who inhabited the North West Company's Fort George were coming up with a wide variety of items, including everything from the side plate of a firearm to a huge, rust-caked key, which would help to tell the fascinating story of life at the fort two centuries earlier.

1994

Three oil companies operating in the area - Amoco Canada, Norcen Energy Resources and Pan Canadian Petroleum - would share the costs of the cleanup of the sewage lagoon with the Town of Elk Point, after the April 27 discovery of a diesel-like substance emanating from an undetermined source in the lagoon, which led to a very prompt cleanup costing in the range of $10,000.

1999

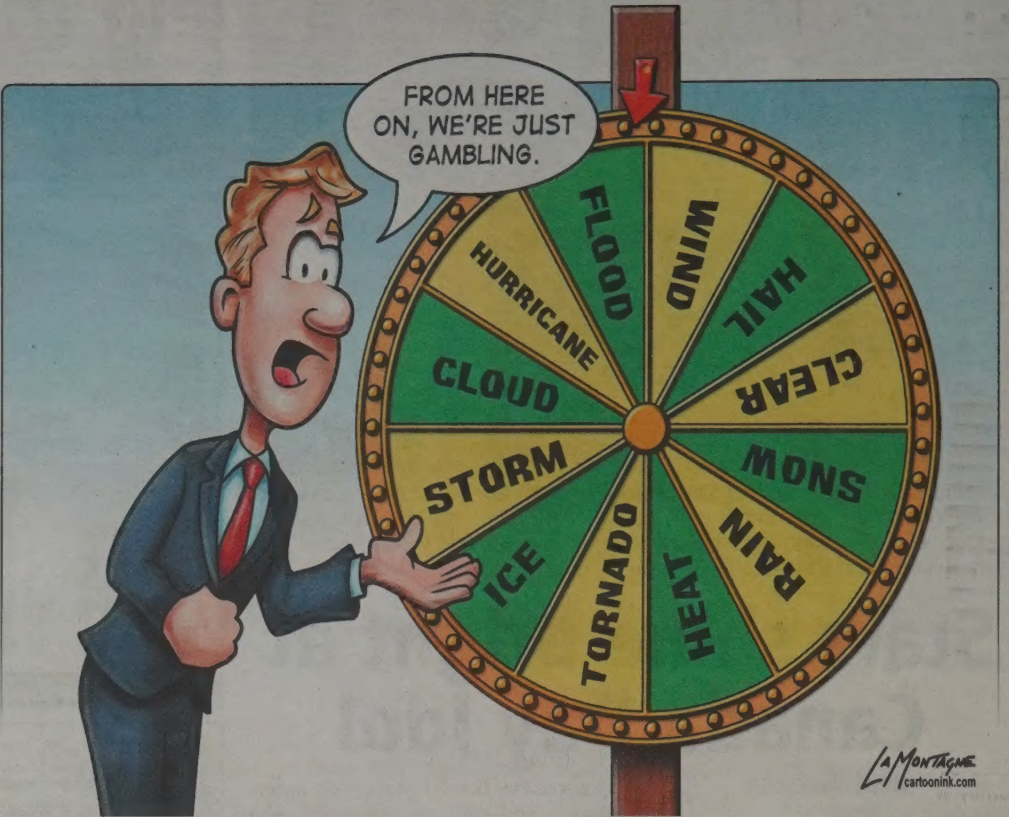

Interest groups from Elk Point, St. Paul and other areas agreed to pursue the development of the Trans Canada Trail from the Saskatchewan border to the western border of the County of St. Paul, narrowing the gap between Edmonton and the border that existed in the Trail's map at that time,

2004

It rained on our parade, but started after the last Canada Day breakfast pancake had been devoured, with later showers holding off throughout the afternoon, as a good crowd enjoyed the Second Annual Slow Tractor Race and the stage show, the day winding up with a gospel concert.

2009

Canada Day was a big hit from beginning to its end, 15 hours later, with a Canadian Forces jet zooming over the parade crowd, MLA Ray Danyluk presenting the final payment of $386,510 to the Allied Arts Society during the afternoon stage show and St. Paul vocalist Kyle Babyn named Elk Point's second Canada Day Idol.

Elk Point 4-H takes a 'field trip' to the STARS

Elk Point 4-H Beef Club members and leaders, steer donors Murry and Lisa Nielsen, and the Quist family who provided feed and raised the STARS steer, pose with the $18,000 donation cheque.

JANICE WIRSTA
Elk Point 4-H Beef Club

Elk Point 4-H Beef recently took a "field trip" to the Edmonton STARS hanger to deliver the funds raised from the sale of the STARS steer at the St. Paul District 4-H Show and Sale on June 2.

The members met in the STARS conference room before viewing a video about the history of STARS. They also toured the facility, where they were able to view the simulator rooms set up for paramedics, doctors and nurses to practice on "dummies" that range in cost between $7,000 and $70,000, depending on their complexity.

They also saw the helicopters in the hanger and were toured through the hanger by one of the STARS pilots of over 20 years.

The members were very intrigued by the tour and it helped them realize how important their donation was. STARS in Alberta went on over 1600 missions in 2013. There were eight trips from Elk Point alone. Cost for the new helicopter to fly is $2,400 per hour. Most missions average between $8,000 and $10,000 per trip. The members left feeling like they were saving a couple of lives!

The members also saw the 4-H logo on the tail of the helicopter. The pilot thought the minimum amount of donations to be on the tail of the helicopter was about $500,000, but he didn't know for sure. The members were pretty excited to see the 4-H logo on the tail of the helicopter!

Peewee Sox win Lakeland League

The last weekend in June at the Lakeland League finals in Elizabeth Colony, the Peewee Sox played awesome, winning the title of league champions and the bragging rights that goes with it for a whole year. Everyone on the team was belting the ball and the pitching was smoking hot.

BASSETT
Review Sports

Riding high on their recent win, the boys received a reality check this past weekend at the provincial round robins in Fort Saskatchewan, losing all three of their games, the first game Saturday at 3 p.m. to Settler Sliders, then to Fort Saskatchewan Red Sox at 6 p.m. and then losing again to the Whitecourt Rockies on Sunday at 1 p.m.. The Sox, of course, face a little tougher pitching at the provincial level and some great fielding plays, plus some teams had some very heavy hitters, while we really struggled with the bats and getting on base. Playing back to back games in the scorching heat of the day didn't help, and we can make all kinds of excuses about the humidity, the officials' calls and being in the hotter of the two dug-outs in the hottest part of the day, but the truth is we didn't play very well and it showed on their big electronic scoreboard for everyone to see.

Over in Stony Plain, head coach Darcy Pankiw and the Bantam Sox fared much better, losing a three and half hour marathon by one run in their first game in extra innings on Saturday against Lacombe, then defeated Cochrane in the second game on Sunday 10 to 1 and lost to the host Stony Plain in another very close game. Great pitching on the weekend by Kyler Carlson, Cameron "the Bear" Baird, Dustyn "Dust Pan" Pankiw and his sister "Taylor Made" Pankiw. "Awesome Alex 'Hunter was awesome at catching in all three games especially when you consider the humid heat and packing around all the extra gear. This coming weekend both the peewee and the bantam provincial teams will be in Heisler for the next round robin.

Back here at home Tyler Warawa and Sheldon Ballas coaching their young first time Mosquitoes provincial team hosted a round robin. Tyler reports: "We played vs Beaumont for the first game. Brandon Goertzen pitched a complete game with only 64 pitches. The boys played very well. Kobe and Andon split the back catching duties and caught a few runners stealing home. Tulsen Wells made a nice play at third, tagging out a runner. While we had a great game, we lost 13-6.

We played the NEZ Girls second and it was a great pitchers' duel with the NEZ Girls using their best pitcher against us. Jace Stafford pitched for Elk Point and held the team to two runs. Evan Ockerman made some nice grabs at first. Danny Cardnal had some real good bats, hitting off their hard-throwing pitcher. Ethan Warawa had two real big hits to score a couple runs. Mathew Quinney played shortstops and made several really nice plays. We ended up winning 9-3. Overall, it was a great weekend and all the teams really enjoyed the weekend.

This coming week the Mosquitoes play a provincial game in St. Paul on Wednesday then travel to Edmonton on the weekend for two more.

Now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "I played the game one way. I gave it everything I had. It doesn't take any ability to hustle." Last week's answer to - "Baseball was made for kids, and grown-ups only screw it up" - Bob Lemon

Two outstanding ball players from Elk Point, Vanessa Ockerman and "Taylor Made" Pankiw with picked up by the Bonnyville Angels to play bantam fastball provincials in Leduc on the July 1 weekend coming home winning the gold.

The Peewee Sox celebrate their league championship win.

Stoney Lake stampedes in sun and showers

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The weather didn't always cooperate, but that didn't stop Stoney Lake Stampede from going down in the books as a huge success for the 52nd time.

Threatening skies on Saturday morning caused the cancellation of the ranch rodeo, but the clouds had headed out of town by the time the stands started filling up for the 6 p.m. performance of the 2014 Stampede, where a full slate of competitors pitted their skills against the timed event clock and the challenge provided by Jim Thompson Rodeo stock.

Sunday's performance enjoyed perfect weather right up to the last bull ride on the program, when the stands emptied in record time as a shower turned to a brief deluge, which fortunately let up in time to run Stoney Lake's signature event: the Corey Marcoux Memorial Stoneboat Race that wrapped up the weekend with the crowd coming back to the stands to cheer on their favourites.

Sunday's rodeo competitors had big boots to fill, after excellent times and scores were posted in the Friday night slack and Saturday evening performances. Three of Sunday's cowboys got the job done, edging past the previous leaders to claim the win. One of those was in the Bareback Bronc Riding, where two out of three riders made the eight – second buzzer, one of them the first rider out of the chutes, Brandon Stuart of Innisfail marking a 71 on Highland Thunder. Vance Kremp was second for the day with a 63 on Signature Collection.

The other two wins were in the novice and junior events. Dustin Shaver of Crooked Creek completed a 67-point ride to take home top money in the Novice Horse Riding, while Colton Kidner of Yellowhead County won the Junior Bull Riding with 71 points.

Timed event competitors faced very stiff competition from earlier performances, and all fell short of the mark. Tie Down Roping went to Dawson Johnson, whose 8.7 second run could not be equaled, Sunday's closest competitor Scott Auclair of Ponoka getting the job done in 9.7 seconds to end up in a three-way tie for third place. Steer Wrestler Wes Kuntz also set the bar quite high with a time of 3.8 seconds, but Coltin Crawford of Drayton Valley could have edged him out on Sunday, if his 3.5-second run hadn't cost a barrier penalty.

Enormous response to new Survivor competition

A total of 27 teams slid, crawled, ran, climbed and tossed their way to victory at the first annual Elk Point Survivor competition on Canada Day.

Stampede

Cole Robertson and Denver Johnson were the Team Ropers to beat, after their rapid 5.1 run, but barriers and bad catches plagued Sunday's ropers, with the only penalty-free run taking more than three times as long, Peter Lowry and Brandon Duperron clocking in at 16.1.

All three sets of barrel racers also came up short. Brandy McPhee would take the win in the Ladies' Barrels with her 15.935-second run, with Sheila Chamulke coming closest on Sunday with 16.335. In the Junior Barrels, Shaylee McMann set the pace with a time of 16.063, with the lone male competitor, Blayde Melaney of Rocky Mountain House coming closest on Sunday with a 16.866 run. Kristin Haeberle took the Pee Wee Barrels title, when all of Sunday's racers were off the pace.

Sunday's intermission featured the annual Best Dressed Cowboy and Cowgirl contest, with Ethan Yaremko and Cydney Boratynec accepting their medals from Pat Swedgan. A large turnout of youngsters assembled in the arena for the Calf Scramble, which this year, instead of calves, featured Frisbees as their targets, with super-soaker water guns going to the winners. Sunday proved too much of a challenge for all four Saddle Bronc riders, with two bucked off and two hurt coming out of the chutes, giving this year's win to Tyler Wilson with a 70-point ride.

The bulls were clear winners in Sunday's Bull Riding, with only one qualified ride, that coming from Kale Marks of Sunnybrook, who made the eight seconds for 61 points, a full 10 points below Mark Doerksen, who led with a 71 coming into the performance.

The thrills, spills and bovine mud wrestling of the 2014 Stoneboat Race provided hilarious entertainment for the crowd and some major challenges for the teams, with Aydon Almborg, Orin Ford and Brett Brown the first trio to successfully rope, saddle and ride their cow, which pulled another member of the crew on a stoneboat.
